ABOUT US

Does the pristine beauty of gemstones available in vibrant array of colours fascinate you? Does the exquisite jewellery entice you? Would you like to see the sparkles of gems as found in nature with serenity of silver and glitter of gold?

This museum shares “The story of a stone to a jewel” a creation of nature as well as a creation of a human mind i.e. from mining to manufacturing, a sojourn from minerals to their transformation into gems, and then their conversion into jewellery nicely displayed here.

World of gemstones welcomes the visitors, where 60+ sections explain the journey of a stone - showcasing various types of rough as well as cut and polished stones, illustrating how nature creates its own artistry in varied colours and designs. Rare and newer stones exhibited here are definitely a learning experience.

Visitors can delve deep into the history presented in a chronological order and by looking at a picture of traders attending their first auction in Jaipur in the year 1948. A running video has a pictorial presentation as well.

The next highlight is Jaipur’s pride - the exquisite 'Kundan–Meena' jewellery. Embedded with coloured gemstones, Kundan (pure gold), Meena (enamel) and diamonds, bespeak the story of unmatched and exclusive craftsmanship, followed by silver, fashion and costume jewellery. Visitors are wooed by the idea of creative jewellery made from materials like rope, leather, grass, clay, shell, plastic, watch parts, stamps, etc.

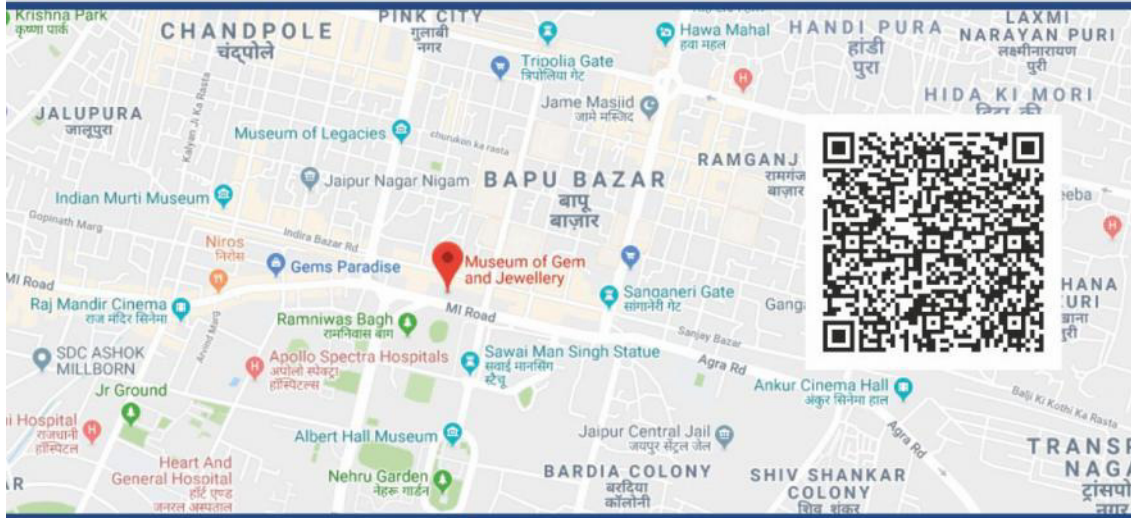

The museum, a joint effort of Jewellers from Jaipur in New York and Jaipur traders, will be a source of education and inspiration for younger generations. This museum is one of its kinds, which bespeak a story of an extra ordinary artistry, craftsmanship and passion for the trade.
